Chairman Milton Greenberg

School Year Will Close June 22

Andover public schools will close June 22, come no more snow.

On a motion by Committeeman Joseph Finn, the school committee Tuesday night voted 3-2 to chalk off this winter as an unusually bad one, and abide by the lower hourly requirement set by the state instead of the 180-school day standard that has been "the Andover tradition."

Finn said he felt extending the school year until June 27, as would be necessary to make up extra snow days taken so far, would go beyond "the point of diminishing returns."

"I don't see any point," he said, "to pushing the students through to the end of June."

The new date is actually one day earlier than the June 23 close set on the school calendar. Four snow days were built into that calendar, and had none been used, school could have let out June 17. However, a total of seven snow days have been taken to date.

Chairman George Olesen, who voted against the motion along with Committeeman Frank Griggs stuck with his contention that the lost time by made up. The schools have an overall plan for a year of 180 days, he said, adding that if some days are lost, the pupils will miss something.

He noted that the state's hourly requirement is "a bare minimum" and that "we expect more, the taxpayers of the town expect more and they pay for more."

Griggs added that up until the energy crisis hit a couple of years ago, the 180-day minimum was the only state standard. At that time, he said, the hourly minimum was introduced for flexibility to help cope with energy problems.

"Are we going to give our children less just because it's allowed?" he asked.

Griggs still favored his previous suggestion that two of the three extra snow days be made up on the Thursday and Friday of April vacation.

The idea of April vacation, he said, is to provide a break in "the long haul" between the February break and the end of school. He said Saturday through Wednesday would be enough for that purpose, and the youngsters could return to class on Thursday of vacation week.

Griggs and Committeeman David Ahouse had originally voted to make up time during last week's February break.

Ahouse said Tuesday night he didn't feel shortening Andover's 180-day requirement

Ethnic Slurs Halt Bid For Return

By Robert E. Finneran
Editor

Citing attacks on his ethnic background, to which he did not wish to submit himself or his family, Chairman Milton Greenberg Monday withdrew his bid for another three year term as selectman.

Greenberg, in a letter delivered to the TOWNSMAN Monday morning noted, "I have always followed an ethical course and earlier campaigned on the basis of principle, standing aloof of prejudice. However, recent events of a personally vicious and irresponsible nature have demonstrated that this will be a bruising campaign," thus his decision not to be a candidate for re-election.

The chairman who is completing his second three year term on the board, said that he had been subjected to many schools.

He was a town employee for 32 years retiring as senior deputy fire chief in 1975. He served as full time civil defense director during the Korean conflict.

He was elected to and served full three year terms on the Andover school committee and the Board of Public Works.

He was chairman of the Town Land Acquisition Committee (now the Conservation Committee), president of the Town Employees Association, member of the Red Cross Board of Directors, Andover Chapter, Commander of Andover Post 8, American Legion, president of the Punchard-Andover high school Alumni Association, member of the Essex County Board of Trade, and member of the Andover Holiday Observance committee.

He makes his home with his wife, Janet, at 49 Pine St.

Seeks Term On Housing Board

Atty. Richard A. Savrann announces his candidacy for the vacancy on the Andover Housing Authority.

Savrann is a graduate of Harvard College and Harvard Law School and is a practicing attorney with an office in Boston.

He has been the state appointee to the Housing Authority for the past five and one-half years and is now serving on the Authority in a hold-over capacity. He now seeks election to the board in order to be able to take part in a continuation of the programs begun during his tenure, such as construction of new elderly and handicapped housing similar to the recently completed facility on North

The Letter

Feb. 28, 1977

To the Editor of the TOWNSMAN:

Today I asked Mr. Salter, the Town Clerk, to remove my name from the ballot as a candidate for re-election as a Selectman of Andover.

This decision was not arrived at in haste. I have always followed an ethical course and earlier campaigned on the basis of principle, standing aloof of prejudice. However, recent events of a personally vicious and irresponsible nature have demonstrated that this would be a bruising campaign. Because of business and personal family reasons I will not become involved in that type of campaign; hence, my decision not to run.

I am thankful for the support of the many citizens who voted for me in the past and urged me to run again. And I am especially thankful for the opportunity given me to have been of service to my community. The past six Andover years is my record, and I am proud of that. I also was afforded the additional opportunity to be of further service to local communities by helping in the organization of the watchdog Essex County Advisory Board, serving on the Executive Board of the Massachusetts League of Cities and Towns, serving on the Governor's Local Government Advisory Committee, and participating in other public service work.

Hopefully, the calumny which has surfaced is an aberration in this community. It is a disservice to the many good citizens who have given and will give of their time to public service. All of us should work for restoration of thoughtful principle and responsible administration. In that way the future best interests of Andover will be served.

Sincerely,
Milton Greenberg

County To Cost $1.20 More

Increases in the cost of county government could cost Andover taxpayers an additional $1.20, according to Assistant Town Manager Sheldon S. Cohen.

Cohen, who serves as secretary of the Essex County Advisory Board, said Tuesday that the budget submitted by the County Commissioners which reflects an increase in excess of $1 million, but does not include funds in a supplemental budget to be submitted for legislative consideration.

The supplemental budget is for $600,000 to cover salary increases awarded state and county employees this past year.

Cohen said that the total increase to be passed on to county taxpayers comes to about $1.3 million and represents increased costs totalling some 60 per cent over a two year period.

The county advisory board, which examines the budget and makes recommendations, will be reviewing the county commissioners' budget at public hearing scheduled later this month.

The county commissioners forwarded their budget to the legislative committee on counties and the advisory board last week requesting $18,622,000 to operate all county departments for fiscal 1977-'78.

The commissioners had cut $1,911,000 from departmental requests prior to submitting their budget to the legislature.

Cohen noted that while the commissioners had made an effort to cut the budget, they did not address themselves to such matters as administrative reform and staffing of agencies.

Such matters as some clerks in court offices in the county handling a large work load than other offices, is a matter the board feels should be considered, along with other areas of personnel allocation.

Cohen feels the advisory board will have its hands full in examining the county budget and making its recommendations to the legislature, following their hearings, the first scheduled for Peabody on March 12.

For local budget planning the town has included $840,000 as Andover's contribution to county costs for the coming year. Last year the cost was $528,000, with the increase representing about $1.20 per thousand of the tax rate for the coming fiscal year.

The second billing of estate taxes has been mailed. Taxes are due by April 2. Taxes unpaid after that date are subject to a penalty back to April 2, if anyone does not report.

The first negotiating session of the Andover Education Association and the Andover School Committee will be held Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. at Stowe School.

The teacher contract negotiations have been going on for a closed door session.

The one-and-a-half-hour minimum for school buses has been reviewed many times in the years, School Committee member Frank said Tuesday night. He moved that it not be renewed again "at this time." The committee agreed with Griggs' motion that the minimum be "fair," and voted to notify an East Jordan parent who says his child while living within the town.

A revised policy of cancellation still leaves the final decision up to the school committee. The school committee day night voted to support the superintendent is to decide whether or not to cancel extra-curricular activities.

The selectmen have approved the request for Recreation Open Space Committee to seek state funding for the entire Hill-Wood Hill property. The board acted accordingly, informed the recreation department had approved, including the entire property.

Heart Fund Higher

The Andover Heart Fund is heading for a record year, according to General Chairman Gerald Cohen.

Contributions are expected to be higher than those of a year ago in a Cohen said, noting that the Sunday drive, under the direction of Doug Mitchell, doubled.

Town House Topics

Tax Bills In Mail

The second billing for real estate taxes has been put in the mail. Taxes are due May 2. Taxes unpaid after that date are subject to interest back to April 2, 1977. If anyone does not receive a tax bill, please contact the tax office. The Tax Office will be open 8:30 to 4:30 Monday through Friday, and Monday nights 6 to 8, April 11, April 25, and May 2.

Negotiations To Be Opened To Public

The first public negotiating session of the Andover Education Association and the Andover School Committee will be held Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. in Stowe School.

The teacher contract talks have been going on for seven closed door sessions over the past few months.

Both sides will make their current stands known Tuesday, and School Chairman George Olesen indicated this week that "subsequently" their original positions may be revealed. The committee has favored open sessions all along.

Mile-And-Half Limit Stays

The one-and-a-half mile minimum for secondary school buses has been reviewed many times over the years. School Committeeman Frank Griggs said Tuesday night, then moved that it not be reviewed again "at this time."

The committee apparently agreed with Griggs' contention that the minimum is "fair," and voted to so notify an East Jr. High parent who says his son, while living within a mile and a half, should be transported. There are no sidewalks, the man says, the way is hilly, and if the boy rode his bike, he'd be too tired to do his homework.

Andover is already well within the state minimum of two miles for secondary pupils, the committee noted. Elementary youngsters are bused more than a mile, as opposed to the state minimum of a mile-and-a-half.

The Wisdom Of Parents

A revised policy on school cancellation still leaves the final decision up to parents. The school committee Tuesday night voted that the superintendent is the one to decide whether or not to cancel extra-curricular activities when school has been closed.

They added a clause that if extra-curricular activities are held, parents be urged to use their own judgment about their child's participation.

Self-Help Funds Asked For Entire Area

The selectmen this week approved the request of the Recreation Open Space committee to seek self-help funding for the entire Bald Hill-Wood Hill property acquired this past year.

The board acted after being informed the recreation department had approved including the entire area within the request for funding.

If approved, and funds given the town, the area cannot be used for active recreation purposes. It is generally felt that should some active recreational areas be needed in future years, other town property holdings in the area can be utilized.

Heart Fund Higher

The Andover Heart Fund drive is heading for a record year, according to General Chairman Gerald Cohen.

Contributions are exceeding those of a year ago in all areas, Cohen said, noting that the Heart Sunday drive, under chairman Doug Mitchell, doubled last year's total and the special gifts section, chaired by Susan T. Poore and the business gifts division under Frank McBride, also have surpassed last year's figures.

Cohen also noted the effects of Eugene Bernardin, Sue Tucker, George Lannan, Marcia Druth and Annette Cohen in the success of the drive to date.

The Heart Fund Dance is scheduled for March 12 at the Andover Country club.

Candidates' Coffee Saturday

The Andover Savings Bank together with the Andover League of Women Voters will present the first opportunity for voters to meet and talk with the assembled candidates for the March 28 town election.

The occasion, becoming known as the Candidates' Coffee, will be this Saturday morning 9:30-11:30 in the lobby of the Andover Savings Bank. The bank which routinely offers coffee and doughnuts to Saturday morning customers and visitors, is providing this chance to have coffee with election candidates as it has for the last two years. Linda Smith, Voter Service Chairman for the Andover LWV reports that the response from the candidates has been enthusiastic.

There will be three contests for the voters to decide on the March 28 ballot: two seats on the board of selectmen; two vacancies on the school committee; and one position on the Andover Housing Authority. The League of Women Voters will also present a Candidates' Night, Wednesday, March 16 in Memorial Hall Library. This will be a more structured forum in which those seeking office will present their views on a given topic, and respond to questions from the audience.

Andover Members On Board

Four Andover volunteers have accepted nominations to become part of the Board of Directors of the Greater Lawrence Red Cross Chapter.

Mrs. J. J. Tavern, Douglas N. Howe, Jr., Dr. Harry S. Westcott, and Robert H. Butler will bring the needed continuity to the Lawrence board regarding the programs, activity and services of the now amalgamated Andover Chapter.

The Greater Lawrence Chapter's board meets monthly and is chaired by William F. Lucey, Jr. The board of directors provides the policy guidance for all Red Cross programs conducted in Andover, North Andover, Lawrence, Methuen and Salem, N.H.

Slide Show Of Parade Sunday

Next Sunday, March 6, the Andover Historical Society is offering a slide show to the public. The first public presentation of the Society's color slides of the Andover Bicentennial Parade will be shown at 3 p.m. at the Amos Blanchard House, 97 Main Street.

This showing will be of special interest to those who missed the historic parade and those who participated in it, but could not see it.

The meeting is under the supervision of Mrs. Mary Winstrom and her Education Committee.

The public is invited. Admission is free.

Police Have Leads In Jewelry Store Theft

Andover police have some "fairly good" leads and are working in the Lynn area, in an effort to solve a break at Greco Jewelers, 26 Park St., which netted thieves in the vicinity of $30,000 to $40,000 in jewelry and cash.

The break was discovered last Wednesday, with the thieves apparently entering sometime over the holiday weekend and bypassing an elaborate protective alarm system to break open a safe.

Detective John Bernhardt of the Andover police reported this week that some suspects have been placed in the store several days prior to the break and police are now pursuing that lead which has taken them to the Lynn area.

The thieves entered the building by shutting off a key-controlled alarm system in the rear of the store. They broke open the safe in the back of the store, took valuable rings from there and also took the more expensive items from display cases throughout the store.

Bernhardt termed the break a "professional job."

The thieves were selective in what they took, grabbing the more expensive items and varying their patterns sufficiently to almost lead one to believe there had been no break at all, as far as the display cases were concerned.

The store had been closed from 5 p.m. Saturday, Feb. 19 through Wednesday morning, and the break was discovered by a clerk.

Uniforms Taken

Civil war uniforms were taken from a display case at Memorial Hall library Saturday afternoon.

A description of some suspects believed responsible for the thefts was given police by library officials.

Two men were believed to have effected the theft of the uniforms, which included a plumed hat and some boots, which were in a display case in the second floor meeting room at the library.

The uniforms were part of a display in the room and were donated to the library several years ago. The library was named in memory of Civil War veterans.

Equipment Stolen

Ski equipment valued at $5,000 and camera equipment totalling $1,000 was stolen from a van at the Sheraton Rolling Green last Wednesday.

The van was parked at the motel by Richard McLean, employed by Spaulding Ski Equipment, who was in the area for the World Pro ski competition at Boston Hill, North Andover.

McLean told Andover police that the van had been broken into sometime between 1 a.m. and 2 p.m. last Wednesday. Ten pair of skis valued at $265 each, ten binding at $110 each, ten pair of poles at $425 and five pair of $195 boots were stolen along with Nikon camera, lenses and accessories.

300 Face Job Loss At Tyer

Friday will be the final day of work at Tyer Rubber Co. for some 300 workers, due to what a company spokesman states is due to the effect of imports on the company's footwear division.

Tyer, now a division of Converse Rubber Co., has been a part of Andover's industrial family for over 120 years and with the major layoff on Friday, will now be down to about 100 employees.

Leo Beliveau, plant manager, reports that while many of the workers losing their jobs Friday are from Andover, the majority are from other nearby communities.

The company laid off about 250 workers in December with the total work force being reduced from 600 last year to 100 as of Friday.

Still being manufactured at the Andover plant will be rubber-covered rolls for industry.

The Tyer division of Converse was a manufacturing plant for the firm's all-star sneaker, and other rubber footwear. Imports have drastically cut into the American manufacture of such products.

Converse is reassigning its footwear manufacturing division to other, newer plants in other parts of the country.

River Basin Planning Discussion

Rita Barron, well-known advocate of river basin planning and management, will speak at a meeting sponsored by the League of Women Voters on Thursday, March 10 at 7:30 p.m. at Memorial Hall Library in Andover.

Mrs. Barron, executive director of the Charles River Watershed Association and member of the Massachusetts Water Resources Commission, believes that participation in 208 river basin planning can lead to improved land use along river banks and streams as well as improved water quality. She will tell of the experience of people in the Charles River watershed area in developing and implementing basin-wide land management programs.

Section 208 of the Federal Water Pollution Control Act calls for all areas of each state to develop comprehensive management plans to meet the Act's goal of fishable/swimmable waters by 1983.

Other speakers at the March 10 meeting will be: Joan Flood, director of the Mass. 208 Task Force, and R. Jeffrey Riotte, senior planner for the Merrimack Valley Planning Commission. Mrs. Flood will describe 208 planning and the role of the public in the planning process. Riotte will relate the Charles River experience and 208 planning to the Merrimack area. Margaret Keck of the Andover Planning Board will be moderator for the discussion.

Traditional Program Will Be Expanded

By Linda S. Corbett

The traditional alternative in Andover will continue at West Elementary School next fall — with the possible addition of five more classrooms.

The school committee, after looking at results of the recent survey Tuesday night, voted to continue the program at West, and to accommodate as many additional classrooms as numbers warrant and as West can accommodate without adversely affecting the contemporary program that remains there.

The recent mail poll of all Andover parents turned up enough additional youngsters to warrant two classes per grade, kindergarten through grade 5, and one, grade 6, where one per grade now exists for each.

However, Supt. Kenneth R. Seifert warned that the survey numbers are "soft," and indicate "interest" only. It's when they're translated into firm registrations, he said, that they'll really count.

That opportunity will come "within the next couple of weeks," when parents who expressed interest will be called to come to West Elementary and officially "sit down and sign up" their youngsters.

A motion by Committeeman Joseph Finn to have two classes for grades K through five and one for grade 6 was defeated 4-1, Tuesday night, with Committeeman Frank Griggs calling the action "premature." The new figures, he said, represented "a shoe horn fit and may have an adverse impact on the school."

One of the main thrusts of the committee last year, Griggs went on, was that they dislocate a minimum number of people. Some special education programs were moved to other schools, but the contemporary program remained in tact, partly because the majority of traditional youngsters were already in West School.

Seifert reported that is is Principal Eugene Frulla's contention he can handle up to 12 traditional classrooms with the possible move of one more special ed class.

The survey revealed 126 traditional youngsters who will be continuing in the program next year, and 173 potential new registrants, for a total of 299. By grade the totals are Kindergarten, 46; Grade 1, 52; Grade 2, 37; Grade 3, 39; Grade 4, 41; Grade 5, 53; and Grade 6, 31.

Of the 173 potential new registrants, 10 are currently attending Bancroft: 9, Doherty; 21, Sanborn; 32, Shawsheen; 23,

South and 78, West.

Finn was the lone vote against the final motion, contending that parents should know exactly how many classrooms there are going to be when they come to enroll.

Substitute Teachers Seek Preferred Status

A group of substitute teachers threw the Andover School Committee for something of a loop Tuesday night, when they informed them there are "preferred substitutes" versus others, and a pay differential as well.

The 10 substitutes, led by Barbara Smith, asked the committee to update the "preferred" list with a $25 a day price tag, no strings attached.

Since no one on the board could put a finger on previous official action that established a $25 per diem for "preferred substitutes" while regular ones got $20, the matter was laid over until the next committee meeting.

Mrs. Smith explained that a few years ago a list of "preferred substitutes" was drawn up after those teachers took a course offered by the administration. They then became eligible for the higher rate, after they had taught 25 days in any given school year.

Mrs. Smith claimed that no course has been given in several years, however, so many of the substitutes present, including herself, weren't on the official "list," even though they are actually requested, or preferred, by schools to other qualified substitutes when such services were needed.

The 10 substitutes present, she went on, had an average of eight years of substitute service to Andover, and work three to five days a week. Some, she said, have also had some inservice training.

West Elementary Teacher Peg Calderwood spoke in favor of "preferred" status for these teachers, saying they have more knowledge about the system than others and are familiar to the students.

To her, she said, they play more the role of "exchange teachers" than substitutes, since they cause no disruption to classwork.

She said they arrive early, follow through on the regular teacher's extra duties for the day, and learn the routines of each school and the "flavor" of discipline. She said they often talk to the teacher by phone in advance, or after, their assignment.

"They go the extra mile," she concluded.

Sanborn teacher Mary Bartow added "as a former substitute," that "these gals are really top notch professionals. There's nothing like coming back and knowing that your programs have been carried on."

She said that "years ago," when she substitute taught in a small Pennsylvania town whose schools couldn't hold a candle to Andover's, she received $23 a day.

Supt. Kenneth R. Seifert acknowledged that he had talked to the substitutes in advance, and that he had recommended a formal training program that would lead to preferential treatment and pay.

For the past 15 years, he said, Andover substitutes have been getting $20 a day, and he felt the "little extra" for those who took a course would be fair.

"There is a difference between substitutes and substitutes," he said, taking issue with a comment by Chairman George Olesen that the matter of pay should be based "on the law of supply and demand."

Photographers Invited To Meeting

Photographers and Filmmakers, who would like to work with Artist-in-Residence David Parry, may meet next week, to set up a regular program for the remainder of the school year.

Parry is an award-winning filmmaker who is spending a few months in Andover schools. He will also work with townspeople on their special problems.

What form the adult program will take and when and where it will meet will be set up at Wednesday's session from 6 to 7 p.m. in the Media Center at Doherty School.

New Precinct List

Andover will have eight precincts instead of six beginning with election activity this year. If there is a special town meeting on Feb. 28, the new precinct lines will be in effect at that time as well as for the town election in March.

As a public service the TOWNSMAN this week continues a listing of those contained within specific precinct lines. Town Clerk Elden R. Salter states it would be helpful if the precinct listings were clipped and saved in order to facilitate voting procedures under the new districting.

Named To Oversee Heat, Vent Systems

James J. Brightney of North Andover, a heating and ventilation mechanic at MIT for the past 10 years, was hired by the Andover School Committee Tuesday night to fill a new, $16,000-a-year HVAC position. He'll begin March 21.

Al Hart, himself relatively new as plant engineer, said Brightney will serve as a trouble shooter answering up to two or three trouble calls a day in the schools, in addition to providing regular maintenance of heating and ventilating equipment and teaching senior custodians in each school how to take care of their equipment on a regular basis.

In response to committee questions, Hart indicated that he and Brightney together will have the expertise to handle a variety of maintenance areas.

There will be no gaps in "in house capabilities" big enough, Hart said, to merit hiring another person. He said he'd rather supplement with outside help in major areas when necessary. Such problem areas might be the electrical heating system at the high school, or air conditioning at Bancroft or West Elementary Schools.

In other personnel action, the committee named Julia Parkhurst department head for special education, a job formerly held by Steve Jankauskas, at an additional stipend of $950. That figure is set by contract for a newcomer to department head status who will be supervising eight people.

Pamela Kvilekval, Chapter 766 pupil personnel administrator, said special people had felt they could do without a department head, but "it didn't really work out."

The committee also accepted the retirements of Miss Florence McCarthy, a fifth and sixth grade teacher at Shawsheen who has been in Andover Schools for 40 years, and Mrs. Madeline Christopher, a fifth grade teacher at West Elementary, who has been with the system since 1961.

Spring coaching assignments were made as follows:

High School - W. Vickers, head baseball, $1100; E. Kelley, J.V. baseball, $900; R. Lawson, head golf, $750; R. Collins, head track, $1700; R. Bourdelais, assistant track, $1400; A. Iworsley, assistant track, $675; M. Sullivan, head girls track, $700; V. Tribou, girls tennis, $850; W. Drummond, phys ed and athletic business manager, $600; P. Thomson, girls softball, $675.

East Jr. High - T. Boudreau, freshman baseball, $900; K. Maglio, Jr. High baseball, $900; J. Hurley, boys track, $925; R. Hatem, assistant boys track, $350; L. Lafond, girls track, $350; K. Maglio, equipment manager, $300.

West Jr. High - S. Tisbert, freshman baseball, $600; K. Lippmann, boys track, $1000; P. Capadilupo, assistant boys track, $300 and W. Green, equipment manager, $300.

School Year

because of this "unusually severe winter" would set a precedent.

"Do I think you're going to get short-changed?" he asked Olesen and Griggs. "No I don't."

Ahouse and Finn were joined by Elaine Viehmann in the vote to close school June 22, making it a 176-day school year.

The action cancelled formal presentation of a report by the administration on how the missed days could be made up by lengthening the school day. That report was requested at the last school committee meeting.

The prepared report showed that the system would be short 1019 hours by June 22, and that the necessary time could be made up by adding 42 minutes per day for 42 days — from March 7 through May 11, for example. It noted that school athletics, after-school jobs, the teacher day contract and bus routes would be affected.

Olesen said Finn's motion was premature since the teachers were going to present their thoughts on the matter when the committee and Andover Education Association meet in a public negotiating session next Tuesday. Finn, however, said the action could be taken without consulting the teachers or affecting their contract.

Sirois, Barry Titlists

Andover High seniors Danny Sirois and Tim Barry put the home town on the map Saturday night, as they each took titles in the Massachusetts State Individual Gymnastics Meet at the Andover High gym.

Sirois won on the parallel bars and followed up with a third place tie on the still rings, while Barry conquered the side horse.

Both were in 10-competitor fields, chosen from preliminary rounds in the afternoon, and they were the only two from Greater Lawrence to make the finals any of the meet's six events.

Sirois had a 7.05 average to top the field in the parallel bars preliminaries, but went on to a clear-cut win in the finals with scores of 6.9, 7.1, 7.0 and 6.1 for a 6.95 finals average and a 14-point overall. He finished well ahead of runner-up Mark Averill who had final scores of 6.1, 6.8, 6.7 and 6.8, and an overall average of 13.85. Kurt Sulkala of Needham was third.

Barry's win; the side horse came after an outstanding 7.3 preliminary round, and final scores of 6.8, 6.7, 6.6 and 7.0. His overall 14.05 average was well ahead of Braintree's Vin Sacchetti with 13.2.

Sirois went into the finals on the still rings with a 7.15 preliminary average, and captured a third-place tie behind Burlington's Jim Caputo with a combined average of 16.85 and Dave Fellman of Lincoln-Sudbury with a 14.6. Sirois and Roger Lumsford of Framingham North had 14.5's.

AFS — A Unique Experience

AFS Family

By Ludvig Tjelmeland

"An AFS experience is unique in two ways. First because you have never experienced anything like it and probably never will, and secondly because every student has his own experience which cannot be compared to that of anyone else."

I heard this both from former AFS students in my area of Norway and from AFS representatives in the seminars in Oslo before we went and at C. W. Post College on Long Island when we arrived in the U.S.A.

Still, I could not really believe that it was true that I would not experience anything that other students had. I understand now, however, that they were right. People and places are so different that it would be very difficult to make the AFS year the same for everybody who receives this special scholarship. I have had my own special experience as a foreign visitor from Norway.

One clause in the agreement with AFS says: "Students may not choose where to go." That means that AFS puts students and families together on the basis of mutual interests rather than particular places. That is one of the exciting aspects about the American Field Service. If I could have chosen the area where I would have preferred to go, I would have chosen Hawaii or California or any warm place which would be unlike Norway. I am glad now that I could not choose because I would not have come here to Andover to stay with Dr. Stephen Poor, his wife, Phyllis, and their children, Aimee, Susan, Sarah, and Stephen Jr.

Family life was a major concern before my arrival. The Poor family has a very different structure from that of the family I come from. I have only one sister and one brother, both of them older and married, while here I have three younger "sisters" and one younger "brother." The Poores and I wrote letters back and forth to create an acquaintance before we met. It is hard to learn to know someone from letters but I found no need to worry. I felt at home at once, and we are having a great time together.

Outside of the family most of my time is spent at school. I am a senior at Phillips Academy which I have found to be a very good school academically and athletically. The student can find stimulating instruction in various areas of interest or particular skills. My own concentration is primarily in mathematics and music. I must compliment both departments for their variety and depth. Math education at Phillips goes far beyond that of the usual secondary level and into college-level material. The Music Department has many diversified courses which provide a broad musical education in theory and in performance. I play the flute myself, and I have joined the band, the orchestra, and a jazz quintet. These groups give me experience playing in three different styles.

Opposed to these advantages, I must confess that as a day student I have found it difficult to make friends since other students who live on campus are brought together in dormitories and clubs. I have almost become an outsider from many community experiences at Phillips. The alternative, living as a boarding student, would prevent me from living with a family and so deprive me of a major part of the AFS experience.

The third major concern of this year is in the activities arranged by other local AFS chapters and school clubs for foreign students. Usually this means weekend get-togethers in which the host chapter provides various social affairs or events to make us acquainted with other AFS students and people in towns outside Andover, or other host communities. For example, we may be attending classes at the host high school (sometimes making speeches to the students about our native countries), sledding, skating, picnicking, swimming, and always enjoying a party on Saturday evening. These weekends have become an important part of the AFS year, and we AFS students look forward to every one of them.

Altogether I found this year to be very interesting and educational. I am grateful to the American Field Service, the Andover community, and to Phillips Academy for all that has been done for me. It is sad, however, to realize that the year is coming closer to its end when I shall have to go back to Norway.

Merrimack Dean Is Awarded Grant

THE TOWNSMAN, MARCH 3, 1977

Merrimack College continuing education dean, Dr. Richard A. Kaplowitz of Andover has been awarded a research grant by the Association of Governing Boards of Universities and Colleges to study The Impact of Sunshine Laws on Public Governing Boards.

Dr. Kaplowitz's research grant award is part of the Association of Governing Boards' Trustee Leadership Program which is sponsored by the Lilly Endowment.

"Sunshine Laws" require that most or all of the business conducted by public boards and bodies be conducted in public rather than in private or executive session. Open Meeting Laws are the Massachusetts version of Sunshine legislation. Presently, more than half of our fifty states have enacted Sunshine Laws which include in their provisions the governing boards of public colleges and universities.

With this growing trend toward Sunshine legislation and with 78% of the nation's college students on campuses governed by public boards, Dr. Kaplowitz will analyze the status of Sunshine Laws throughout the United States and the implications of these laws for the ongoing operation of public governing boards.

"I hope that this report will assist members of governing boards of public colleges and universities to function more effectively. It is becoming more important that individual board members fully understand their rights and responsibilities under the new Sunshine Law provisions, particularly in the areas of personnel functions and collective bargaining negotiations and agreements," said Dr. Kaplowitz.

Appointed Dean of Continuing Education at Merrimack College in July, 1974, Dr. Kaplowitz is responsible for the academic and fiscal administration of the college's Evening and Summer Programs, including curriculum development and the selection of faculty members. He is chairman of the Faculty Advisory Committee on Continuing Education and has served on the Faculty Development Committee and the Grants Committee at Merrimack.

Under Dr. Kaplowitz's guidance during the past two and a half years, Merrimack's Division of Continuing Education has increased its Evening Program enrollment by 31% and Summer Program enrollment by 30%. New degree programs in Human Services Administration, Liberal Arts, Mechanical Engineering, and Engineering Science have also been developed within the Continuing Education Division during this period.

Dr. Richard A. Kaplowitz

Dr. Kaplowitz has assisted in opening daytime programs of study at the North Andover college to adult students in the community on both a full and part time basis. Currently more than 100 adults are enrolled on campus in day classes. Besides expanding advisement functions for evening and daytime adult students, he has introduced non-credit course offerings and the first graduate coursework at Merrimack. He has also pioneered the Mini-Session concept at Merrimack wherein a student focuses in depth on one specific area of study through daily six hour class meetings in a seven and a half day period.

Prior to his Merrimack College appointment, Dr. Kaplowitz had served since 1972 as Special Assistant for Academic Administration in the Office of the Dean of University College at Rutgers University. From 1970 to 1972, Dr. Kaplowitz was the Director of Adult Education and Special Programs at the C. W. Post Center of Long Island University.

Proud Moment

Bill McKissack, has Eagle Badge, the highest honor in Boy Scouting, pinned on by his mother, Mrs. William McKissack, Jr., during awards presentation for Troop 76, Ballard Vale United Church, as his father looks on. The ceremony took place Monday night at the church.

Awarded Eagle Rank

The presentation of Boy Scoutings highest honor, the Eagle rank, William McKissack, was the highlight of Boy Scout Troop 76's Court of Honor Monday. The final step toward earning his Eagle badge, came last month when McKissack ran a bloodmobile at the Ballard Vale United Church — that netted more than 50 pints of blood.

McKissack, 13, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William McKissack, 20 Hemlock Road, Andover. He has been a Scout since December, 1973, first with Troop 73 and, since August, 1975, with Troop 76 of Ballardvale United Church. There he has served as patrol leader and senior patrol leader and has represented his troop on various junior leader committees at Council and District activities. He will attend the National Jamboree with the local troop and will continue Scouting when his family moves to Atlanta, Ga.

Presenting the Eagle award to McKissack was Jack Fascione, newly appointed district executive for the Shawsheen

District of North Essex Council, BSA.

Also at the court of honor, the tenderfoot award was given to Andrew McKissack, Cal Lawrence, Jammie Pash and Peter D. Allison; and first class rank, to Joe E. Nersen and Doug Aikman.

Newly elected senior patrol leader Andrew Duffy, patrol leaders Paul Jamison and Jeffrey Farlow, and troop scribe Joe E. Nerden received their insignias of office.

ACT Begins Winter Production

By Caryl Hastings

The mid-winter bluffs have been temporarily set aside for members of the Andover Community Theatre (A.C.T.), as rehearsals begin for their winter production, "The Hollow Crown."

Originally presented by the Royal Shakespeare Company in 1961, "The Hollow Crown" by John Barton, could just as easily be entitled "The Falls and Foibles of the Kings and Queens of England."

A.C.T. is excited about "Hollow Crown," as it will be introducing to the local public an unusual type of production that is out of the ordinary and will appeal to old and young alike. The audience will enjoy a combination of music, poetry, speeches, letters and other chronicles in the monarchs' own words.

Directing "The Hollow Crown"

Assisting Rick Winterson are Enid Clouse (Assistant Director), Debbie Brown (Music Director) and Julie Pike (Produced). The cast consists of four readers; Al Swenson, Lyn Huttenen, John Huttenen, and Barry Bragen. Accompanying the readers will be male ballad singers, whose names will be announced at a later date.

If A.C.T. continues its tradition of quality community theatre, "The Hollow Crown" should prove to be a purely entertaining experience.

The production is scheduled for Friday and Saturday March 25, 26 at 8:15, and Sunday March 27, at 2:30 p.m. at West Elementary school.

Capital Budget Program Slated For Session

The town will have an opportunity to act on implementing capital budgeting within its municipal operations, but it will be through a bylaw, rather than a charter amendment.

The decision came following a public hearing on a proposed charter amendment presented by Selectmen Richard J. Bowen at the selectmen's meeting Monday night.

Bowen had submitted the charter amendment to the town clerk in December, mandating a process which calls for a public hearing by selectmen, then to town meeting for action and finally to the ballot for adoption or rejection.

Selectman Bowen, suggested in his proposal, which was fashioned after a capital planning program suggested by a national organization, to have the town manager submit to the selectmen annually a five-year capital budget program.

The manager's proposal was to be subject to review by the planning board and finance committee where applicable, and submitted to the selectmen three months before the formal presentation of the annual budget.

This would allow for a public hearing on the matter by selectmen and further permit the manager to include the first year of the five year plan within the annual budget presentation.

Bowen said it was a strengthening of the role of the selectmen as policy makers and gives the town some long range planning. The selectman also said that it provides the manager with the responsibility of preparing the program and involves the planners and fin-com where appropriate, in the process.

Selectman Janet D. Lake said she found the proposal reasonable and acceptable, but asked why it was in the form of a charter amendment, a point also asked by Chairman Milton
Greenberg.

Bowen said he felt that it was principally a budget process and should be a part of the charter. He said implementation through adoption of a bylaw would be much easier and more acceptable, since it takes only a town meeting vote.
The charter amendment route would result in the matter becoming law in 1979 at the earliest, Bowen noted, while a bylaw could make the program operable next year.

Bowen also said that the charter amendment route would also give the town some time to run through the process prior to its formal adoption.

One area which the board, and Town Manager J. Maynard Austin, who had no objections to the plan, agreed should be included, is the role of the school committee.

This was brought up by Atty.
Irving L. Newman, who presented a brief to the board relating his thoughts on a capital budgeting program.

Newman questioned some points in the Bowen proposal, noting that planning board duties are governed by statute.
He also felt that the proposal was not democratic in its format.

All members of the board disagreed with Atty. Newman, who admitted that much of his presentation was a "matter of semantics."

As for the democratic process, the members pointed out that public hearings are provided for in all proposals and the ultimate decision in all matters was left to the open town meeting process.

Selectman Alan F. French noted that the planning board was the sole agency charged with planning for the community but all boards are involved.
He also said he could quarrel with the contention that the democratic process was abridged, as Newman had noted.

After telling Atty. Newman,
"the selectman generally disagree with you," Chairman

Greenberg asked Bowen to take all the discussion and matters presented Monday and be a committee of one to draft a bylaw for presentation to a special town meeting within the annual town meeting this year for consideration.

Mrs. Lake concluded the hearing by commending Bowen for his presentation and the brevity of his program.

OVER 100 YEARS

Off To Alaska For The Nationals

By Andrew Brescia

Fourth in the combined and seventh in cross country — not bad for the Easterns! Born Dec. 25, 1959, Thomas D. French, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alan F. French, of Moreland Road, Andover, is a senior at Phillips Academy and is bound for the Junior Nationals this Saturday.

For his final competition, Tom will fly from J.F.K. airport to Fairbanks, Alaska.

Now captain of the boy's ski team, Tom started competing his first year at Phillips on an informal basis. Working very hard, Tom slowly improved by training virtually 12 months of the year. Running cross country in the fall, competing in the winter, and training on his own in the spring, Tom fulfills the commitment to the training that is necessary for successful seasons, for, as Coach Best recognizes, "90% of the success will be based principally on the conditioning he achieves."

For the past two years, Tom has been a member of the Eastern Junior Nordic Training squad — a long name for training squads which "are designed to recognize individuals who have attained outstanding results the previous season . . . to fully develop their athletic ability." Having performed very well in four qualifying races, Tom's "Athletic ability" will carry him to the Junior Nationals.

As a captain, Tom periodically views video tapes of home meets with Coach Best to discuss what the individual competitors of the team are trying to do and how to achieve better results. Similarly, Tom is a strong and concerned captain on skis with friendly tips and coaching among his teammates. In the library and in classes, Tom is a smiling, amiable senior with lots of work and lots of friends. Accepted "early decision" at Dartmouth College.

Tom will continue skiing, probably with last year's captain, Bob Burnham.

Stress Test Planned At YMCA

The Andover - North Andover YMCA and the Lawrence YMCA will jointly conduct a third one-day program of "exercise testing and cardio-vascular health screening" on March 13 at the new Andover - North Andover YMCA building. The program will be supervised by the New England Cardiovascular Health Institute of Cambridge.

Two prior days of testing have thus far served over 105 individuals with both days being over-enrolled. A fourth day of testing is already in the planning stage and interested adults from the Greater Lawrence community should submit names to either the Lawrence or Andover - North Andover YMCA at once. Waiting lists are being developed and additional days of testing will be set up. The popularity of the testing program is attributed both to the quality of the testing and the low fees which are about half of those currently being charged elsewhere.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen C. Gentile

Gentile - Simpson

Beverly Ann Simpson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward F. Simpson, 11 Amherst Road, Andover, became the bride Feb. 19 of Allen Carl Gentile. The groom is the son of Mrs. Sandra Gentile of Methuen.

The Rev. Edward G. Robinson officiated at the 2 p.m. ceremony at St. Augustine's Church, Andover, and a reception followed at DiBurro's Restaurant.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white Quiana with a Queen Anne neckline and adorned with white Venice lace and seed pearls. Her headpiece was a Dior cap of matching Venice lace and seed pearls, attached to a fingertip veil of English illusion.

She carried Eucharis lilies arranged with stephanotis and English Ivy.

Nancy Simpson attended her sister as maid of honor, and bridesmaids were the Misses Linda Cairns and Kathy Borrelli.

Lawrence Gentile served as his brother's best man and ushers were James and Paul Tarshi.

The new Mrs. Gentile graduated from Andover High School and is employed by Burger King in Methuen. Her husband graduated from Tenney High School, Methuen, and is self employed.

Following a wedding trip to Canada, they are making their home in Methuen.

Clinic Training Session

In preparation for its annual amblyopia pre-school vision screening the Andona Society held a training session for Andona members and interested persons of the Greater Lawrence community, Monday, at the Andover - North Andover YMCA.

Dr. Carter Tallman, a local ophthalmologist and member of the Massachusetts Society for the Prevention of Blindness, conducted the training session.

Amblyopia, or "lazy eye", is a condition of reduced or dim vision in an eye which appears normal, left undetected it can cause blindness. However, it can be corrected if detected early enough.

The Andona Society's Screening Clinic will be held in April. Mrs. Wilfred Schwarz, Jr., is this year's chairman.

Student Commended

Elizabeth Iannazzi, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Iannazzi of 45 Oriole Drive in Andover was one of 37 nursing students from Saint Joseph's College, who was commended for her pursuit of education for professional nursing and for her academic achievement to date during the candle-lighting and capping ceremony held Saturday, Feb. 5 in the college gymnasium.

This ceremony is held at the beginning of the second semester of the sophomore year, just prior to the first clinical nursing course.

It serves as a public acknowledgement on the part of the nursing student to develop the knowledge, skill, judgment, and understandings which are basic to the unique service which constitutes professional nursing today and tomorrow.

Miss Iannazzi is a graduate of Andover High School.

La Leche League To Meet

The La Leche League of Andover and No. Andover will hold a meeting Tuesday, March 8, at 8 p.m., at the home of Mrs. Karen Seuss, 7 Mt. Vernon St., Lawrence.

A non-sectarian, non-profit organization, the league proposes to teach, encourage and give moral support to mothers and mothers-to-be who want to breastfeed their babies.

Tuesday's topic, the third in a series of four informal discussions, will be, "The Family and the Breastfed Baby." Mothers with babies are encouraged to bring them.

Purim Festival Set For Temple

The Talmud declares: "When Adar arrives, our joy increases." And rightfully so. For the fourteenth day of the Hebrew month of Adar marks the holiday of Purim, the paradigm of Jewish deliverance from cruel tyranny. The characters of King Ahashuerus, Queen Vashti, Mordechai, Esther, and the evil Haman parade before us, vivid reminders of our people's will and capacity to survive.

The Hebrew word "purim" derives from the old Persian word "pur", meaning "lots." It refers to the "lottery tickets" used by Haman to determine a date for his planned destruction of the Jews of Persia.

There are many theories as to how the Book of Esther came to be written. Some scholars hold that Purim coopted and Judaized the popular pagan carnivals of that era. Jewish leaders could not stop the people from feasting and parading, so they validated the practice in the Jewish historical framework, in the Scroll of Esther.

Purim is unusual in many respects. First, it has many secular aspects. Indeed, Esther is the only book of the bible in which God is not mentioned at all! Second, Purim, like Chanukah, is viewed by tradition as a minor festival.

The elevation of Purim to a major holiday in the eyes of the Jewish people was a result of the Jewish historical experience. Over the centuries, Haman became the embodiment of every anti-Semite in every land where Jews were oppressed. Jewish communities throughout the world, when delivered from tragedy, often wrote their own Megillot and celebrated local Purims.

The significance of Purim lies not in how it began, but in what it has become a thankful and joyous affirmation of Jewish survival against all odds.

Purim this year is on Friday, March 4. The Purim Service for all the family, with graggers and Hamantaschen, will be held at Temple Emanuel, 483 Lowell St., Lawrence, on Thursday night, March 3 at 7 p.m. The service will be conducted, as has been the custom at Temple Emanuel, by members of the Temple Emanuel Teenage Youth Group. Following the services all the participants will be invited to join in the Purim refreshments in the Temple social hall.

Folk Rock Concert Is Slated

Two former members of the jazz-rock group Harvest have formed their own folk-rock group since Harvest disbanded. The group, Jezreel, will be making its first appearance at Turningpoint

8 p.m. The group will be sharing the message of Christian love through their music.

The group will be featured durlate sixties, the coffee house motif is somewhat rare at this time. A coffee house provides the opportunity for relaxation, quiet conversation, listening to entertainment, and drinking various hot and cold beverages.

Turningpoint's Coffee House has been visited by thousands of young people since it began five years ago. Turningpoint is located at 13 Essex St., Andover directly behind the Memorial Hall Library in Andover Center.

'Discovering Our Roots' To Be Topic

A Family Night Pot-Luck
Supper will be held at Faith
Lutheran Church in Andover this Saturday evening from 6 to 8 p.m. The theme for the evening will be, "Discovering Our Roots."

A film will be shown entitled
"This Church Lives" — a film which recalls the highlights of four centuries of Lutherans in North America. A number of other activities have also been planned by the Fellowship Group, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Janet Krabec, to help those attending share their own personal roots.

At 9:15 a.m. on Sunday morning, this focus on "Roots" will continue as the Adult Forum recalls the early history of the Faith Lutheran congregation.

The charter members of the church are being asked to be present, and to share some of their recollections of the pre-building days of Faith Lutheran.

So that these recollections might be preserved, Otto Sonnenschmidt will be videotaping the Forum presentation.

This theme will also be continued on March 13

THE TOWNSMAN, MARCH 3, 1977

Caustic Calumny And The Democratic Process

We find it most unfortunate that in this year of 1977, in a community which prides itself on upstanding reputation, a man must remove himself from a political contest due to personal, ethnic attacks on himself and his family.

Milton Greenberg, a selectman in Andover for the past six years, and board chairman for many of those years, withdrew his name from ballot consideration on Monday.

Reason for the withdrawal, Greenberg said in a letter to the Townsman, was "recent events of a personally vicious and irresponsible nature," which led him to decide, "because of business and personal family reasons I will not become involved in that type of campaign."

Mr. Greenberg refers to irreverent reference to his ethnic, religious background, by persons within the town, particularly since the decision was announced concerning the tenure of the town manager.

Also in his letter, the chairman comments, "Hopefully, the calumny which has surfaced is an aberration in this community," noting that it is a disservice to the many citizens who have and will continue to give of their services to the town.

We agree.

That a person, in this day and age should be subjected to such treatment as has befallen Mr. Greenberg, is a sad commentary on the democratic process in Andover.

Certainly, the board's decision not to renew the town manager's contract when it expires in August, will be an election issue.

Mr. Greenberg as a part of the majority which made the decision would have had to stand on that decision at the ballot box March 28.

During his six years as a member of the board, he has contributed much to the community in time, talent and service. He brought to the town some of the business principles upon which he built a successful corporation.

He was willing to give of his time to public service.

As an elected official, he was subject of both praise and criticism in these columns, and, we must emphasize, that he accepted both in a gentlemanly and professional manner.

He was at home with his gavel at board meetings, ruling the conduct of the sessions, whether or not it was always publicly popular.

Now, he was to face the electorate again, asking their decision as to whether he should continue to be of service to the community, based on his past performance.

Surely, the manager decision would have a heavy bearing on the outcome.

But it should have been on either his past performance, or even the singular decision relative to the manager's contract, that the voters should decide, not his ethnic background.

What he has been subject to, is comparable to the treatment accorded some school committee members a few years ago when they were involved in a controversial decision. Garbage was thrown on their property, eggs splattered their homes, and the families subjected to obscenities via the telephone.

We have maintained that Andover has been fortunate over the years to have had talented people desirous of giving themselves to public service in the interest of their community.

Whether we agree with their decisions or not should be the only criteria used to evaluate that public service at election time.

We can ill afford the actions which resulted in Mr. Greenberg's decision this week, or the effect it had on the school committee members a few years ago.

The town election will be held next Monday. It has been decided that the beginning time for the annual town meeting will be 7 p.m. next Monday in town hall.

There will be a meeting in town hall next Sunday night in the interest of the no-license vote in the coming election. Judge Shaw will preside and speakers will be William Shaw of Ballantyne, Bernard M. Allen of the Academy and Fr. O'Mahoney.

A break in the service pipe at the Draper Block on Main Street threatened for a few minutes to do considerable damage to the basement. Prompt discovery of the break, however, prevented moving of all the material. Supt. Smith of the Board of Public Works was on the scene swiftly with a gang of men to effect repairs.

No session of the public schools was held either Tuesday or Wednesday owing to the severe cold. A check of the peach buds made and it is now felt that the hard freezing, we may have some good, natives this year.

At the auction sale of the Phoebe Frye estate in the Village last Saturday afternoon the property was purchased by Joseph Thompson of Lawrence. The estate, consisting of a large home of ten rooms and a acre of land on Poore Street, sold for $1,625.

WEEKLY SPECIAL

Luxury Planes Still Provided for Top Brass

by Jack Anderson with Joe Spear

WASHINGTON -- President Jimmy Carter has put on a big show of cutting down government luxuries. With a great roll of the publicity drums, he has stripped many government big-wigs of their door-to-door limousine service.

But he has kept strangely quiet about their air shuttle service, which the taxpayers also provide. Airplanes are more costly to operate than limousines.

The Air Force keeps 25 luxury planes at the beck and call of the government hierarchy. The Air Force also provides flight crews to attend to the wants of the prominent passengers, and escort officers to handle the baggage and arrange accommodations.

At key locations such as Honolulu, the Pentagon maintains a visitors bureau, which meets the planes, reserves hotel rooms and answers questions about bathing beaches and night clubs.

This luxury fleet is known as the Special Air Mission, and the 25 planes range from the president's own Air Force One to smaller, cozier jets. The cost to the taxpayers of this VIP ferrying service ran over $20 million last year.

The Coast Guard furnishes two additional sleek, white jets for the top brass. And the Federal Aviation Administration puts four planes at the disposal of its administrators.

Of course, the government big-wigs feel that the taxpayers wouldn't want them flying around in shabby planes. Two years ago, for example, government auditors reviewed some of the maintenance records. Their findings were never made public, but we now have had access to them.

Four planes that were being reassigned were given gleaming new paint jobs. The auditors claimed the old paint was quite adequate to protect the planes, yet they were repainted strictly for cosmetic reasons.

The GAO's unpublished report states the painting was requested "merely because the paint was faded and the aircraft looked inferior as compared with special air mission aircraft."

If this seems like a lot of fuss over a little paint, the job cost the taxpayers $635,000.

Unkind Cut: President Jimmy Carter is in trouble over his last haircut. He brought in Ismael Morales, a Puerto Rican, to cut his hair last week. Morales confessed he was nervous, so the president told him to relax and spoke to him in fluent Spanish. Morales relaxed and gave Carter a shampoo and a scissors haircut.

The next day, the regular White House barber, Milton Pitts, was quietly fired. Pitts had changed President Richard Nixon's hairstyle from the greasy to the dry look. Pitts also brought President Gerald Ford's 1950 haircut up to date by lowering his sideburns and no longer shaving the hair around his ears.

But Pitts had to pack his brushes and sprays and clear out of the White House. Now the barbers' union is preparing to complain to President Carter for Pitts is a union man and Morales is not.

The president's appointments secretary, Tim Kraft, arranged Carter's nonunion haircut. Kraft told us he didn't know Morales was nonunion. Morales told us he was opposed to the union. But he has such respect for President Carter, he said, that he will join the union if it will please the president.

Incomplete Investigation: It looks as if the House may never complete its investigation of the John F. Kennedy and Martin Luther King assassinations. There seems to be something strange about this.

Last year, the House hired Richard Sprague, a crack Philadelphia prosecutor, to conduct the investigation. He put together a staff of professional investigators. He particularly sought homicide detectives, who knew how to follow murder clues.

The House investigators quickly determined that both the FBI and CIA had held back information about the two assassinations. Sprague's men also interviewed key witnesses who had been missed by the FBI.

Suddenly, attacks began to appear in the press against Sprague. We have traced some of these attacks back to FBI and CIA sources. Now Henry Gonzales, D-Tex., the House Assassination Committee chairman, has joined the strange assault on Sprague. Gonzales has called him everything from a "liar" to a "rattlesnake."

It appears to us that the FBI and the CIA would like to close the book on the assassinations. This doesn't mean they are involved in some sinister plot, but there are some awkward questions they would rather not be asked. For example, both the FBI and CIA had closer contacts with President Kennedy's accused assassin than they disclosed to the Warren Commission. The CIA even recorded the conversation of Lee Harvey Oswald in the Cuban Embassy in Mexico City before he allegedly gunned down the late president.

The confrontation between Gonzales and Sprague has also been misrepresented. Most press accounts have been critical of Sprague, but every committee member is supporting Sprague. It doesn't seem likely that Gonzales is right and everyone else wrong.

There has been too much effort behind the scenes to abort this investigation. Investigations that the government is so anxious to kill should always be pursued.

To the Editor of the TOWNSMAN

I would like to lend my support to the present Board of Selectmen for their action in not rehiring the present Town Manager. We have elected our Board to be our policy makers and they in turn must appoint a Town Manager who "shall be responsible for ensuring that the boards, officers and representatives of the Town comply with policy determinations of the Selectmen." (pg. 1, Town Charter). In addition he oversees the management of the town.

In the Town Charter the duties of the Manager cover a page and a half of duties, more than any other officer of the town. With so many responsibilities in the hands of the Town Manager, the responsibility is even greater for the selectmen, who must be sure he is capable of handling the job. They (selectmen) are in the best position to perceive whether he is doing the job; whether he is carrying out their expectations and directives for the good of the town. They must put aside personal feelings when making these decisions. Our town government cannot be devoted to personalities but to principle and sound business judgment in serving the needs of its residents. I believe the best interests of the town were the basis of the selectmen's decision.

If the tenure of a Town Manager is subject to a public plebiscite, then the selectmen will be deterred in the objective execution of their single most important duty, the hiring or firing of the town administrator.

Warriors Edged In Tourney

Andover High's basketball team wound up on the short end of a most exciting tournament contest Tuesday night, as Reading managed to edge the Warriors 58-56.

That the Warriors were defeated in the opening round of Eastern Mass tournament play was hardly the fault of Captain Mitch Rousseau, who played an outstanding game both offensively and defensively.

Rousseau pumped home four points in the closing seconds of the game to bring the Warriors within victory, but Reading countered with a bucket with only four seconds remaining to gain the win.

Coach Will Hixon expressed pride in his team for their efforts in the tournament game, staying with Reading all the way. He also praised the team for its effort this season, with the Warriors closing out a successful campaign at 19 wins and three losses.

Tuesday night, Rousseau led all scorers with 20 points. Bill Halton nine. Other scoring: Mike Hart, four; Geoff Bragdon, 8; Steve Serley, 2; Mark Maher, 6; Eric Sullivan, 2; Dave Farrell, and Dave Dauber, 4.

Andover gave up a share of the Merrimack Valley League title last Wednesday night when it lost a heartbreaker to Lawrence that put that team in the state tournament as well. Andover ended up with a 12-2 league season — 19-

2 overall — and second place. Billerica topped the league at 17-1, their one loss being to Andover.

Last Wednesday's 55-52 loss to Lawrence was a complete turnaround from the meeting of the two teams a couple of weeks earlier. That time Andover breezed to a 51-25 victory.

Andover led 14-12 going into the second quarter last Wednesday, but the Lancers spurred to a 33-24 halftime lead behind the scoring of Dennis Morin and board play of Larry Cousins and Gil Desrosiers.

Andover came back in out in the second half with a full-court press, and scored eight points in less than a minute to pull up to within one point, 37-36. Co-Captain Bill Halton then scored the last four points of the third period to tie the score at 40-40 all.

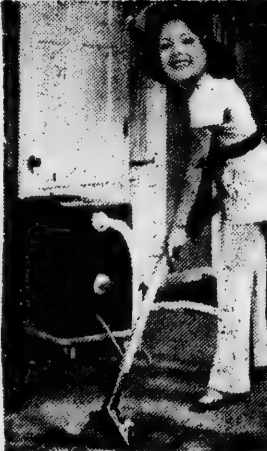

Halton and Guard Mitch Rousseau each scored four points to see Andover take its last lead of the game at 50-47, in the fourth quarter. But Lawrence's Morin came back with two foul shots, a bomb and a layup to give the Lancers a 53-50 lead. Halton scored a final basket, but Morin followed with two free shots with 21 seconds remaining, to end the scoring.

Warrior Coach Wilbur Hixon credited the Lawrence team with having the "shooters and leapers" when they needed them and was disappointed that Andover didn't take advantage of its fourth period opportunities. His team picked up four straight turnovers when the score was 42-42, without sinking any of them. The team also missed four free throw tries in the stretch.

But, Hixon called the season "satisfying" overall. Winning 19 games in any given year, he said, is a reason to be proud.

Lawrence's Morin led in overall scoring with 26 points, while Rousseau led Andover with 20, followed by Halton with 16.

Old Faithful.

New Faithful.

Good Old Faithful! Always got you where you were going. Always did it economically. And now, after 27 years and 33 million cars, it's still a symbol of dependability and economy.

Now there's a car that's just as reliable and economical as Old Faithful ever was. It's New Faithful. The 1977 VW Rabbit. With engineering so advanced that automotive experts have hailed it as the kind of car Detroit will be building in the 1980's.

The Rabbit has a new fuel injection system, so it starts up quick as a bunny. Springs like one, too. 0 to 50 in just 7.7 seconds. The Rabbit also has advanced engineering features like negative steering rack, rack and pinion steering, and an independent stabilizer rear axle.

New Faithful lives up to Old Faithful's reputation for economy, too. Because it has fuel injection, you can use the most economical grade of gas. But you won't have to use it very often. Rabbit gets 37 mpg on the highway, 24 in the city (that's EPA's estimate for manual transmission. Actual mileage may vary, depending on driving habits, car's condition and optional equipment).

Dependability and economy. That's what Old Faithful gave a whole generation of Americans. And that's what New Faithful is giving a whole new generation of Americans.

AHS Students Excel

Three Andover High school seniors have been notified of their attainment of singular honors for achievement.

Robert H. Cammett, is a first place winner in the 1977 "Ability Counts" contest conducted by the state Commission of Employment of the Handicapped, and Patricia L. Foner and Meredith L. Young, have been notified of their being finalists in the 1977 National Merit Scholarship competition.

Cammett, who will continue his education at North Essex Community College in Haverhill next year, will be presented an all-expense trip to Washington, D.C. and a $200 cash prize for his theme being selected as the first prize winner.

The award will be presented at a luncheon to be sponsored by the Mass. Department of Disabled American Veterans and arranged through the Governor's office.

Cammett, a popular young man at the school, has been the statistician for Andover High football teams for the past several years, checking all gridiron activity from his wheelchair on the sidelines of all games.

Miss Foner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David N. Foner, 22 Wild Rose Drive, began her college study under an early admission plan at the University of Lowell.

Miss Young, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth H. Young, 18 Summer St.

The two were selected as Merit Finalists.

The two are among 14,000

Merit finalists nationally who are eligible for Merit scholarships to be awarded later this month or in April.

A certificate of merit and a letter from the National Merit Scholarship Foundation has been awarded to each.

Greenberg

telephone calls in reference to his ethnic background.

"I have enjoyed my service to the town and would like to continue, but I don't need that," Greenberg said, noting remarks being made to him and his family. The decision was for personal and business reasons, he said. Greenberg is head of GCA Corporation, an electronics firm headquartered in Burlington.

The decision throws the race for selectmen into a three candidate field seeking the two three year terms. Seeking reelection is Mrs. Janet D. Lake, with Albert Cole Jr. and Edward M. Harris, retired U. S. Army Colonel, also seeking election.

At issue, this year is the town manager's contract. The selectmen by a four-one vote announced in January that they would not renew the contract of Town Manager J. Maynard Austin when it expires in August. Greenberg and Mrs. Lake were among the majority, with only Selectman Richard J. Bowen, former manager here, opposed.

Much of the attack on Greenberg's heritage has come since the announcement of the manager's contract decision.

Greenberg said he would continue his public service activity in some capacity despite his getting off the board. He serves on the executive committee of the Mass. League of Cities and Towns and the Governor's Local Government Advisory Committee.

The attacks are reminiscent of those of a few years ago when School Committeemen John F. Lyons, John G. Wragg and George F. Olesen were subjected to such things as garbage being thrown on their lawns, eggs thrown at their houses and obscenities to them and family members via telephone. Lyons and Wragg eventually resigned from their school board posts, although the actual reasons was a difference of opinion regarding appointment of counsel for a case involving their decision not to re-elect an assistant superintendent of schools.
